

DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY, COUNSELING AND HUMAN SERVICES

ACCEPT THE CHALLENGE™

Why choose psychology, counseling or human services at Geneva?

The strength of Geneva's programs lies in the integration of the biblical perspective with classical and modern theoretical positions, as well as practical approaches to psychology. We believe that application of behavioral, cognitive and social concepts can be personally rewarding, and the program provides a rich variety of classroom, laboratory and practical experience.

- The program meets the standards required by the American Psychological Association (APA) for graduate school entrance
- Faculty members are affiliated with professional organizations including the APA, the Christian Association for Psychological Studies (CAPS) and the National Organization for Human Services (NOHS)
- Students receive practical research and field experience

What degree options are available at Geneva?

B.S. in PSYCHOLOGY—Prepares students in the areas of human development, social psychology, experimental methods, abnormal psychology, psychotherapy and more

B.S. in HUMAN SERVICES—Prepares students for positions including child and youth services, probation, welfare services, government agencies and community centers by providing a thorough understanding of public policy as well as professional skills

B.S. in BIOPSYCHOLOGY—Explores the relationship between physiological and psychological systems and provides a deeper understanding of how body functions affect behavior through a joint effort with the Department of Biology

What can I do with a psychology, counseling or human services degree from Geneva?

- Case worker
- Social agency worker
- Media planner
- Drug and alcohol counselor
- Probation officer
- Prepare for graduate studies to obtain professional licensure

What are Geneva psychology, counseling and human services graduates doing now?

- Therapeutic Support Staff
- Neurophysiology Technician
- Graduate programs (both Master's and Doctoral level)

What internship opportunities are available through Geneva?

Some common internship opportunities for Geneva students include:

- Glade Run
- Adoption Connection
- TRAILS Ministries

What are some classes I might take at Geneva?

- Sensation and Perception
- Personality Psychology
- Human Diversity
- Community Intervention and Special Populations

Academic Organizations

- Psi Chi, a national honors society for psychology students
- Psychology Club

Now dig deeper...

...by visiting www.geneva.edu to find full descriptions of majors and concentrations, read current student stories, meet the faculty, schedule your campus visit and apply for admission.

Or contact the Admissions Office at 800.847.8255 or admissions@geneva.edu.

“Geneva has set opportunities around me to actually use my hands to experience what I want to do in life.”

Corey Fraction, human services graduate