

Culture Care Gesture—Humanities 303

Students seek “to provide care for our culture’s ‘soul,’ to bring to our cultural home our bouquet of flowers, so that reminders of beauty—both ephemeral and enduring—are present in even the harshest environments where survival is at stake.”

—From Culture Care by Makoto Fujimura

Fujimura is an artist who visited Geneva and inspired the Culture Care Gesture. This is a project in which students design a creative gesture that blesses others and develops culture. Through students’ efforts, Professor of Philosophy Dr. Esther Meek and the other HUM 303 team members intend to “sow seeds of beauty in culture and campus life” and minister to a society in need of culture care.
