

A Request from the Dean of Student Development

Jamie R. Swank, J.D., M.A.

Dean of Student Development | Title IX Coordinator

724.847.6641

It has been my privilege to serve your students and the Geneva College community this year. As the Dean of Student Development, I get to witness first-hand the remarkable growth and transformation that happens in our students as they learn both in and out of the classroom. But all worthy journeys, including a college education, come with their difficulties, foreseen and those unforeseen. Perhaps, this is no more true than in the national situation in which we find ourselves now.

What sets Geneva apart from many other institutions, is our unshakeable faith in the Lord Jesus Christ and His goodness. In this unique hour of history, we covet your prayers more than ever. That is why we ask that you would join us in praying for the following:

- That the Lord's grace, wisdom, strength, and endurance would be with all our students as they navigate the disruptions the COVID-19 crisis has brought to their academic pursuits.
- That the Lord would encourage and be a source of joy for our seniors as they have had many "lasts" postponed as a result of the current quarantine.
- That the Lord would provide wisdom for college leaders as we navigate unknown waters with foresight, faith, prudence, courage, and grace.
- That the Lord would sustain and preserve our students and their families during this difficult season that they may return to campus to finish the good education they have started.
- That the Lord would continue to protect our college community and all those with whom we are connected and keep them in good health.
- That the church would be a light to our neighbors, in spirit and truth, in an hour where the hope, salvation, and mercy of Jesus is needed so greatly.