

COVID 19 and Mental Health: Crisis Effects on Healthcare Workers

Presenter: Dr. Luann Richardson

Date/time: Wednesday, April 6, 3 p.m.

Link: <https://us.bbcollab.com/guest/5423544513c84aad982345162882829d>

Dr. Luann Richardson is a Professor at Robert Morris University School of Nursing, mostly teaching courses involving mental health and advanced practice nursing issues. She earned her Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Nursing Practice Degrees through the University of Pittsburgh while obtaining her undergraduate degree at the University of Alabama. She is certified as a Family Nurse Practitioner, Geriatric Nurse Practitioner, and Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner. Her academic interests include Integrative care, geropsychiatry, and advanced practice psychiatric and clinical issues. Dr. Richardson has published numerous publications on advanced practice issues and has presented nationally. She maintains clinical practice working in settings that include older adults, those with general mental health conditions and substance use, and also supports those in underserved communities. Her previous areas of work have included cardiac, occupational, and women's health settings. Finally, she has been a Faith Community Nurse for more than 20 years.